Big Changes in Store for 2007

Please excuse me if my typing is kind of rough, as I am trying to write with TWO hats on! First of all, with my Editor's hat on, I want to thank you all for reading this newsletter. It is a very important way to get the word out that the National Rifle Association is alive and well here in San Francisco.

You may notice we now have a new name for this newsletter ... the Golden Gate NRA News. Thanks to input from someone new and someone old, we have changed the title to better reflect what we are. GGUN-RAMC was a nice alphabet soup name we cherished for the past 13 years, but now we need to show the world that the NRA stands tall here in the SF Bay Area. Now there can be NO confusion about what this newsletter represents.

Another BIG change for 2007 will be the method of delivery of this newsletter. We will be including the URL of this newsletter in our monthly e-mail alerts, and will do this for each month in 2007. This way, we will be sure of you having faster access to the newsletter, a wider distribution, and a way for you to download it and share it with friends. For those of you without Internet access, please contact us to be sure you will still receive this by regular mail. A nice benefit of this change will be more content, as we will not need a separate page for addressing.

As a special Christmas bonus, we've added a great firearms resource listing in this edition. We've tried to list all the gun stores, indoor and outdoor ranges, shotgun ranges, an archery shop, and a great tactical gear store located around the Bay Area. We've also included the websites of the NRA and other affiliated resources as well. Keep this listing for your files and you can make good use of it during 2007.

Now, let me switch hats here ...

As the Vice-president of the Golden Gate National Rifle Association, I want to thank you for supporting us this past year. We have fought some tough battles, with some solid victories. We have fought back SF's Proposition H, the handgun ban. We have defeated the California semi-automatic pistol microstamping bill, the ammunition serialization bill, and 17 other onerous bills in the State Capitol. We even got two pro-gun bills passed and signed by the Governor.

2007 promises even more tough fights. We need you, the NRA members of the SF Bay Area, to stand with us more than ever. There will be some horrible anti-gun bills brought back to life in Sacramento, as well as the US Congress. We will be sending out important details and action requests to you all as the need arises. Often, these action requests will be on an "immediate" time constraint, as a bill may be up for a vote and we need to let the legislature know RIGHT AWAY how we think as a voting freedom-loving citizen of this state.

Another way we want to positively impact the Bay Area is to hold more firearms safety clinics. Since the San Francisco Board of Education voted to remove the Jr. ROTC Corps from the schools, we can step into the gap. The NRA can provide safe and fun shooting classes to high school youth. All we need is the dedicated NRA-certified rifle instructors to step up. We will be starting a listing of qualified NRA instructors we can tap into for this vital and rewarding project. If you want to become a certified instructor, please contact us and we can put you in touch with the necessary classes to receive your certification.

Yes, 2007 holds much promise, and many trials. Please join us, the Golden Gate United National Rifle Association Members' Council, in the great fight to keep your sacred Second Amendment right.
